Continuation of 3. Applicant's reply has overcome the following rejection(s): the 35 U.S.C. 112 2nd paragraph rejections set forth in the final rejection dated 4-29-04.

Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: the Hendrix reference US 5404820 discloses applicant's claimed invention. The Hendrix reference discloses both a testing signal(safe message) and a firing signal (unsafe message. As seen in applicant's claim 1 it is stated that "any" unsafe message is allowed to reach the detonators. The term "any" is deemed to mean any number including zero and therefore the Hendrix reference does not need to disclose unsafe messages reaching the detonators. Further, in regards to applicant's other arguments regarding the prior art rejections refer back to the response to arguments section (paragraph 5) of the final rejection dated 4-29-04. Further, in response to applicant's request for withdrawal of the finality of the office action dated 4-29-04, as seen in applicant's specification on page 4 lines 17-21, the blasting network is described as consisting of an assembly of detonators and communication devices installed in a known manner at a blasting site. As seen in applicant's amendment dated 8-8-03 a blasting network is claimed but not further defined by the claim language. In a subsequent amendment by the applicant the claims are amended to read a blasting network which includes an assembly of detonators. The blasting network is more defined and it is deemed that the addition of this limitation into the claims constituted new matter which allowed for a new grounds of rejection in the final rejection of 4-29-04, since as seen in applicant's disclosure on page 4 lines 17-21 the blasting network can also include communication devices as well as an assembly of detonators and applicant does not describe the blasting network as including the communication devices. Therefore it is not inherent to what the blasting network is, since it can contain either an assembly of detonators, communication devices or both. Therefore the finality of the rejection dated 4-29-04 is not removed.
